Virginia Tech's defending ACC champs made it to the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament before falling to eventual champion Villanova. Despite the loss, head coach Buzz Williams was pleased with the season, saying, "We had some growing pains, but we learned a lot from playing against some tough teams."

"We didn't have the shots go in we wanted them to go in," Williams said after the game. "But we played hard and we fought until the end."