Honest Injun

It's not the Richmond Coliseum clock, but this scoreboard at William and Mary's Cary Field might be mistaken for it. The "official time" for yesterday's Group AAA state championship football game became unofficial during action in the first quarter and stayed that way for the rest of the afternoon. Similar occurrences with the Coliseum tickers are a regularity.