Virginia Tech Basketball Network
Will Carry Games Over 20 Stations

BLACKSBURG—Twenty radio stations will be airing the fortunes of Virginia Tech's basketball team this year.

For the second year, the broadcasting team of Don Lloyd and Ken Haines, both of Blacksburg, will move from the football sidelines to basketball courtside to keep the listeners informed about the Tech Gobblers.

The 27-game schedule begins this Saturday, Nov. 27, with a home contest against Marietta. Air time is 7:15 p.m.

The season will close with the always dangerous Marquette team invading Blacksburg Feb. 26. Air time for that contest will be 6:45 p.m.

The stations on the Virginia Tech Sports Network are: WRFL-FM, Winchester; WANV, Waynesboro; WGOL-FM, Lynchburg; WSLQ-FM, Roanoke; WVVV-FM, Blacksburg; WRAD AM and FM, Radford; WUVT, Virginia Tech; WBBI AM and FM, Abingdon; WGAT-FM, Gate City; WOPI, Bristol.

Also, WMEV-FM, Marion; WBOB-FM, Galax; WMVA AM & FM, Martinsville; WFLQ-FM, Farmville;

WYVA-FM, Yorktown; WNVA-FM, Norton, and WPUV-FM, Pulaski.

The schedule follows: Nov. 27, Marietta; Nov. 29, Charleston Baptist; Dec. 1, at West Virginia; Dec. 4, Ohio State; Dec. 11, North Carolina at Roanoke; Dec. 17-18, Dayton, Ohio, Invitational; Dec. 20, Northern Illinois; Dec. 29-30, Times-Dispatch Invitational at Richmond; Jan. 5, Texas Wesleyan; Jan. 8, at St. Bonaventure; Jan. 12, Virginia at Hampton.

Local newspapers should be checked for broadcast times.
