Summary

Kathy Tickle is an Enrollment Services Assistant in the School of Education. She has been with the University for 17 years. Kathy is described by her colleagues as "a unique caring individual with the ability to make any student feel capable and special as they pursue their degree at Virginia Tech." Kathy is the one who responds to the questions of students and faculty regarding applications, programs of study, grades and anything else concerning graduate programs in the School of Education. She is a stable force in the academic lives of the doctoral and educational specialist students in the special education administration. Kathy's work ethic and caring spirit enable her to assist students with their needs. Students frequently come to the office to personally thank her for the support and care that she gives.

Kathy's efficiency is exemplified in her superb organization of her work. The records are maintained meticulously, files are up-to-date and clearly labeled, access to information for reports is immediate, and her response to requests for data is timely and accurate.

Kathy's contributions to the School of Education and the University are exemplary.
