National Association of Industrial and Technical Teacher Educators

The National Association of Industrial and Technical Teacher Educators (NAITTE) was founded in 1937 to develop closer cooperation among educators engaged in the preparation of teachers in industrial arts, trade and industrial education, and technical education. NAITTE's primary goal is to promote opportunities for professional growth and development. Other goals are to develop cooperation among related client groups and to serve as an authority and advocate in the preparation of professionals in the fields of industrial and technical teacher education and industrial and military training.

NAITTE members are active and dedicated professionals whose contributions to the field over the past 50 years have been significant. Members are noted for their high achievement, leadership, and influence. While most are faculty members at institutions of higher education or come from industry or military training organizations, membership is open to all persons who are interested in the theory and practice associated with the preparation of industrial and technical teachers and of industrial and military trainers.

Activities and Services

- Journal of Industrial Teacher Education. The Journal, mailed free of charge to all members, is published four times annually.
- NAITTE Professional Monographs. NAITTE distributes monographs treating a single subject in depth.
- Industrial Teacher Education Directory. This is an annual listing of personnel, along with addresses and telephone numbers, in every college or university department devoted to industrial or technical teacher education in the United States and certain countries outside North America.
- Convention Meetings and Papers. NAITTE presents a full program at the annual meeting of the American Vocational Association.
- Special Commissioned Textbooks. Since 1963, NAITTE has commissioned and supported the development of textbooks such as the Accident Prevention Manual.
- NAITTE News and Views. Information for members is presented in this periodic newsletter.

Why not join NAITTE and become involved with the action-oriented association for professionals in your field? Complete and send in the membership form today.
